

EVENING BULLETIN

3:30 EDITION

Advertises Best Advertising Service and Gives It

A broader and better outlook upon human life is found when glancing at the world's affairs through the pages of the EVENING BULLETIN.

ESTABLISHED 1882. No. 4912.

12 PAGES.—HONOLULU, TERRITORY OF HAWAII, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 1911.—12 PAGES.

PRICE 5 CENTS.

PASSED IN HOUSE

COMMISSIONERS IN CLOSED SESSION

Board of Public Instruction Going Over Hilo High School Row.

UNABLE TO AGREE, CONFERENCE STILL ON

After finishing the examination of Principal Richmond yesterday afternoon the Board of Commissioners of Public Instruction went into executive session to discuss the whole Compton-Richmond matter, and then this morning the session was continued.

At twelve-thirty, when the commissioners came from the office Commissioner Moir stated that they might finish this afternoon and they might not.

"We are taking up every point brought out in the testimony and in the written evidence presented to us and are discussing each in turn," said Moir.

"We are going into the subject thoroughly for we do not want to give any snap judgment, and when we do arrive at our conclusion we shall forward a copy of the decision to each of the parties to the controversy."

Denied by All. The general denial of the parties against whom Mrs. Compton brought charges was rather expected by the board, as no one was under oath and the board had no authority to put anyone under oath for testimony.

Richmond on Stand. Every allegation made by Mrs. Compton was denied by Richmond. Mrs. Lawie, Miss Sandey and Miss Allen stated that she had never seen Richmond drunk.

Was Evaded. When Richmond went on the stand to answer the charges, he evaded questions and put statements which the commissioners had to question him closely about in order to get at the real facts.

One of these incidents was that of (Continued on Page 4)

AGRICULTURE IS LOOKED AFTER

Following the action of the legislative assembly in providing for the Board of Agriculture and Forestry for the next two years from the conservation fund, the House today passed a concurrent resolution introduced by Rice designating the fund for the various divisions of the board. "The funds are not arbitrarily fixed, but elastic to a certain degree. They are as follows, the total being $121,200:

GENERAL.
Clerks, employees, etc. $25,500
Add to Hawaii Experiment Station 20,000
DIVISION OF FORESTRY
Sup. of Forestry ($250) 6,000
Rental ($150) 2,500
Supplies 1,500
Traveling expenses 900

$12,900
DIVISION OF ENTOMOLOGY
Sup. of entomology ($250) 6,000
A. assistants, etc. 7,500
Supplies 1,500
Inspection 12,000
Search of parasites for pests 15,000
Traveling expenses 500

$11,500
DIVISION OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY
Sup. of animal industry ($250) 6,000
Assistants, etc. 12,500
Quarantine, etc. 2,500
Apparatus, etc. 1,000
Traveling expenses 500

$22,200

SUGAR

SAN FRANCISCO, Apr. 26.—Boards of inquiry, 104. 51: parity, 4.23. Previous quotation, 104. 71-124.

School Land Resolve Wins

3:55 p. m.—The Fairchild Resolution was in the House by a vote of 20 to 10.

Castle made a strong speech in favor of the Resolution. He was followed by Kawewehi and Sheldon. Kellin proposed that it be submitted to the people at a special election to be held next August.

Motion was made to table Kellin's amendment for a plebiscite; that motion to table was lost by a vote of 14 to 16. The question then turned on Kellin's original motion.

Kellin's amendment was lost, the vote being a tie, 15 to 15, Richard changing his vote.

Divided up to the last moment of the session apparently, the House factions this morning will lock horns finally on Senator Fairchild's land resolution, under the terms of which revenues from developed lands are to be set aside for education and sanitation.

The measure got on the floor of the House this morning from the public lands committee, with two reports, as has been anticipated. A. L. Castle and Charles Kanioka of Oahu, Joseph Cockett of Maui and George H. Huddy of Kauai form a majority that reports in favor of the resolution with some amendments. Chairman G. F. Afoa of Hawaii opposes the resolution, while Ed Towse of Oahu and J. W. Moanani of Hawaii do not side with either faction, but remain noncommittal to the last.

Briefly speaking, the amendments to the resolution offered by the majority are in the nature of a compromise. The original resolution proposes that 60 per cent of the revenues go to public schools, 30 per cent to health and sanitation, and 10 per cent to the College of Hawaii. The compromise offered is that instead of expending some of the revenue for health, this portion be

(Continued on Page 3)

SENATE PASSES IMPORTANT BILLS ON FINAL DAY OF LEGISLATURE'S SESSION

The sixtieth and last day of the Senate's work in the regular legislative session for 1911 was marked by little discussion and the passage of a number of bills on third reading, the most important accomplishments of the morning session being concurrence in the House amendments to the loan bill, sending that measure to the Governor for his signature; passing on final reading the House bill appropriating an emergency fund of $250,000 for health work and the approval of the measure referred to in committee reports as "Representative Towse's Direct Primary Bill," Kilaua Park Resolution.

House Concurrent Resolution No. 12 providing for a national park at Kilaua, was deferred at the morning session to be taken up in the afternoon. Senator Judd, who has headed the opposition to the Legislature going on record as favoring the bill—now pending in Congress because it provides for the condemnation of about two thousand acres of land that are not really needed for park purposes—again stated his objections. He declared that the two thousand acres were apparently wanted for camping purposes and that it was ridiculous to think that the United States Government would ever agree to the condemnation of land for such purposes. He added that he was strongly in favor of the park but did not think the whole plan should be jeopardized by the unresponsible provisions of the bill as it now stands.

Senator Fairchild contended that the resolution should be passed as an expression of opinion and that the two thousand acres referred to by Senator Judd, he understood, were needed to preserve a number of rare birds that would otherwise become extinct.

It was finally decided to take the resolution upon committee of the whole this afternoon.

Veto is Sustained. Governor Frazier's veto to the item in the unpaid claims bill appropriating $22,000 to James Quinn as a result of his automobile running off a government wharf was sustained. Baker, Judd, Kanioka, Pali, John Brown and Kanioka voting against the overriding of the veto. Quinn's claim was based on alleged negligence of government employees in not placing adequate lights on the wharf while being repaired.

GEORGE H. FAIRCHILD
Whose Resolution Is in the Balance.

Silverware Resolve Passed.

House joint resolution No. 8, providing for the recognition of the Republic of Mexico, was passed.

(Continued on Page 4)

POLICE FEARFUL UNIONS WILL RESCUE MEN

LOS ANGELES, Apr. 26.—Fearing that union forces and sympathizers would attempt a demonstration, the police threw heavy guards around the McNamara and McManigal, the union men who were arrested in Detroit and Indianapolis charged with complicity in the dynamiting last fall, and when the prisoners arrived here today they were taken to the county jail, strongly manacled.

At the jail they were lodged in separate cells and will not be allowed to communicate with each other.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Apr. 26.—The grand jury today continued its investigation into the arrest of the union men here.

FOR SALE—Palolo Hill Ocean View

Kaimuki Kapanulu Nuuanu Kalihi

Properties

JOSE J. DIAS Bishop St., below King St. Phone 3448

SIXTH SESSION OF LEGISLATURE CLOSING TONIGHT

*** This is the closing day of the sixth session of the Territorial Legislature, the sixtieth day. Both the Senate and House have cleaned up most of the work, and the session closes with a record for work done that has never before been equaled. More bills have been introduced, more passed upon and more finally passed than in any previous session, and never before did the two houses enter the final hours with so little work to do. It has all been done. Both houses will be in session until midnight tonight to finish all legislation and then approve the minutes of the session. *****

BASEBALL IN BIG LEAGUES

(Special Bulletin Cable.)

The scores in the big leagues' play today were as follows:

AMERICAN.

Philadelphia—Philadelphia 7, Washington 2.

Boston—Boston 11, New York 8.

Detroit—Detroit 9, Cleveland 6.

NATIONAL.

Cincinnati—Cincinnati 8, Chicago 10.

New York—New York 6, Boston 3.

St. Louis—St. Louis 1, Pittsburgh 2.

Brooklyn—Brooklyn 3, Philadelphia 3.

REP. SENATORS OBJECT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Apr. 26.—The insurgent Senators have refused to accept the committee assignments made by the Senate committee on standing committees. They have appealed to a Republican caucus for the recognition they think is their due.

MEXICO LODGES PROTEST

(Associated Press Cable.)

LONDON, Apr. 26.—Mexico has lodged a formal protest against the landing of British marines from the British man-of-war Shearwater in Lower California. The protest is expected to bring up an international difference.

NOGALES, Mex., Apr. 26.—A serious battle is reported near Mazatlan, with eighty wounded. The wounded were taken to Mazatlan for treatment and shelter.

EL PASO, Tex., Apr. 26.—General Madero, the rebel leader, is reported today as being willing to extend the proposed armistice until peace terms can be talked over.

ALLEGED POISONER OUT ON HEAVY BAIL

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Apr. 26.—Dr. B. C. Hyde, charged with the murder of Thomas H. Swope and whose trial formed one of the most remarkable chapters in the history of criminal poisoning cases, was today released on $50,000 bail.

ALLEGED DYNAMITER IS IDENTIFIED

LOS ANGELES, Apr. 26.—James McNamara, one of the prisoners brought from Indianapolis, has been positively identified as the party who purchased dynamite at Grant Station under the name of Bryce.

Appointments By Governor

Senate Confirms All Names Sent In

The Territorial Senate accorded quick confirmation this morning to the appointments made by Governor Frazier in a special message to the upper house of the Legislature.

The vote was taken practically without discussion and there were no dissenting votes on the motions for confirmation.

Ex-Governor George R. Carter is to be chairman of the Sanitary Commission which is to take up the problem of bettering the health conditions of Honolulu. The other members are Charles R. Hemenway, formerly Attorney General of the Territory, Donald H. Currie of the United States Marine Hospital Service, in charge of the Federal leprosy investigation station, and Arthur R. Keller, an engineer, thus complying with the requirements in the resolution passed by the Legislature as to the professional equipment of the commission.

The Commissioners of Public Instruction are all reappointed and John J. Carden and Fred L. Waldron are new members of the Board of Immigration.

In addition to the fence commissioners and the members of the Board of Veterinary Examiners the Governor names commissions to promote uniformity of legislation and for the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

FRED L. WALDRON
Named on Immigration Commission.

Walter E. Wall is appointed surveyor, D. Kalauokalani Sr. is reappointed.

(Continued on Page 2)

O. K. IS PUT ON FILIPINOS BY COMMITTEE

House Investigation Finished and Results Are Presented.

IMMIGRANTS GIVEN A GOOD CHARACTER

A vindication of the Filipino immigrant is contained in a report filed in the House yesterday afternoon by the committee on Agriculture and Immigration, headed by Chairman Ed Towse of Honolulu. The report was made in response to a House resolution by Representative Afoa of Hilo, who demanded an investigation of Filipino immigration into Hawaii.

The report finds the Filipinos good workers and not at all undesirable citizens. Indeed, the committee finds the Filipinos distinctly desirable from the standpoint of immigrants.

The report says: "We concluded that it was the purpose of this Resolution to cause to be presented to the house and the people of Hawaii findings upon 'a thorough investigation regarding the acquisition and character of Filipino laborers.'"

"This we have done largely through correspondence and by visiting the plantations on the island of Oahu. We find that their acquisition is conducted by the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, legally and at the time much more carefully than in the earliest days of the immigration. The only fault to be found now is the great preponderance of males. The islands are now well protected from any disease likely to be brought by these laborers as they are all carefully inspected by the U. S. authorities before being shipped from the Philippines."

Character. The overwhelming weight of the evidence gathered warrants the finding that the Filipinos are people of average "character"—usually peaceable and orderly, in the main honest, tractable; industrious—in general the equal of most of the immigrants. On the plantations they show high spirit by their interest in athletics, and are encouraged in all sorts of track and field sports, more especially boxing by Mr. Andrew Adams, manager of Kahuku plantation. That they are eager to learn English and are devoted to baseball we consider good signs of assimilation. Then too, their buoyancy may be somewhat due to the fact of the Spanish oppression and lack of opportunity in the Philippines.

Again they make for a balance of nationality amongst plantation laborers, which is most desirable.

To this report are appended letters from Dean C. Worcester, secretary of the interior for the Philippines, from Dr. Donald H. Currie, of the U. S. Marine Hospital Service, from Moses T. Clegg, assistant director of the Federal leprosy investigation station, from managers of Ewa, Oahu, Oahu, Wailua and Onomes plantations, and from Sheriff Jarrett of the City and County of Honolulu.

Another Veto Over-Ridden

By a vote of twenty-five to five, the House this morning overrode the Governor's veto of the Senate bill appropriating $1000 for the relief of John A. Commins, and thus ended a long and noted case. The bill was passed two years ago, but pocket-vetted by the Governor. He vetoed it this year, but yesterday the Senate overrode the veto and the House followed suit this morning.

Charles Tavares, Wailuku, Williams and Speaker Holsten voted to sustain the Governor's veto, but twenty-five others voted to pass the bill notwithstanding his objections. Towse made a speech in favor of overriding the veto in which he declared that Commins suffered for his loyalty to the queen.

Belief-aid appropriation for Maui increased from $250,000 to $370,000.

$65,000 for new waterworks at various places.

The bill passed third reading in the House today with only one amendment. Maloe wanted items for courthouses and jail at Wailuku and Kahuku to be inserted, but the House refused to do it. The one amendment was offered by Rice, a mere change in wording made necessary when the Senate killed the waterworks and sewers commission bill.

As the bill came from the Senate, it called for improvements aggregating $2,995,240. When the House finance committee got through, this amount had been boosted to $2,797,240, the increase being absolutely necessary.

The principal items added are:

(Continued on Page 4)

$150,000 for Honolulu power.

$100,000 for Puna water rights.

$65,000 for Palolo water rights.

$25,000 for the Carnegie Library.

$15,000 for extension of Waimea river embankments.

$100,000 added for belt roads on the island of Oahu.